Presentations from: Redcliffe Multi-disciplinary team.

Young Children's Marks

This conference will explore the range of marks young children make as they make sense of their world. Children's drawings are not a static representation of a given reality but are 'Thinking in Action' (Cox, 2005). Children's talk, discussions and reflections are also vital to their thinking processes. This conference will highlight the key principles of the 'Communicating Matters' publications focussing on children's conversations.

Conference cost £100 (£60, Bristol C. C, group discounts available) Includes: Lunch, Refreshments, and entrance to exhibition, please see reverse for bookings.
